Dear Sir/Madam,

I read about the proposed changes to the 14th Legislative District. I don't think the proposal represents the best solution and in fact ignores the logical boundaries of the area. Loudonville is a close-knit community, and the changes would divide it unnecessarily. I also feel that separating Loudonville from Menands is illogical--Menands and Loudonville are uniquely situated and it certainly seems to make sense to keep them together in one district--particularly with the growth expected for Menands in the upcoming years.

I would propose that it would be more appropriate to remove the area north of Rt. 378 and east of Rt. 9 from the district.

Sincerely,

Tom W [REDACTED]
